APPENDIX-I

INTRODUCTION TO TEACHERS, PARENTS AND GUIDES

In helping learners learn, the teacher's role is very crucial. A country's education is as good as its teachers. In order to help our learners learn English we wish you to read the introduction to class-III English Primer before you read the introduction of this book. We have revised all our English textbooks from class III to class VIII and all these books now follow a common pattern well supported by sound pedagogy. It will, therefore, be easy on your part now to deal with all these textbooks to help your learners learn English. In our introduction to class III English textbook we have stated, in some details, the problems of teaching English in the first year of learning English and how we have solved these problems. There was a big gap between the class III and class IV English textbooks. We have bridged the gap by carefully redesigning both the textbooks. Now the class III students, who will read the new book, will have no problem reading other book. But students who have studied the old book and now studying in class VI, they are likely to have some problems. But we have tried to solve these problems by the introduction of adoption of new approach in all the books. Stated below are some suggestions for you on how to deal with different parts of a lesson.

Socialization – Every class should start with socialization and end with leave taking as suggested in the introduction to class III textbook.

Teacher : Good Morning students.

Students : Good Morning sir/madam.

Teacher : How are you students?

Students : Fine, thank you sir/madam.

Leave Taking :

Teacher : Good bye students. See you in the next class. Have a good day.

Students : Thank you sir/madam. Goodbye.

The main purpose of adoption of new approach is to help the learners who have not learned in the previous classes. In this class, the learning may indicate includes learning to write capital and small letters with right strokes and learn how to write words, phrases, sentences and a small chunk of writing in good hand. In order to take away the boredom of such achievers, we have placed different tasks in between interesting activities. Learners will make fun with English, enjoy and forget the hard work done before and get ready to work again after brief relaxation. It is good to take the learners in confidence in this regard. Tell them this is hard work. We will work hard and enjoy with a song. Once taken into confidence, they will cooperate. Impositions will not work. As the main purpose is setting the learner's handwriting right, the instructions for good handwriting are provided in Appendix-III (A) Notes on Techniques.

After a session of writing, you are to see what the learners have written, correct their errors and provide support. If the class is large and you cannot see everyone's script, it is better to see some scripts, find common mistakes and provide academic support using the blackboard. Students who lag behind, who fail to do the task, you have to help them personally or ask your good students to help them (as most of the good students complete their tasks early). If we do not help them at this stage, they will be a problem for us in the future.

MAIN LESSONS

Each main lesson, as stated before, has three sessions- pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading.

PRE-READING

At this stage, your role is to motivate your learners to read the text and we have suggested ways to help you. All the instructions for you and your learners are to be spoken by you to the learners. You also help your learners to read and comprehend the instructions. This will help them learn English and learn to do these tasks on their own. You just see them, read aloud what is written as if you are speaking to your students- occasionally translating the instruction in Odia. But slowly reduce the amount of Odia and increase the amount of English. When you find a pre-reading activity is difficult and you have no better alternative, better stick to one that is provided or the picture provided.

WHILE-READING

This is as stated before is the most important part of a lesson. Take extra care not to read aloud and explain. Allow students to read on their own and comprehend as much as they can. When you ask them to read silently, you do two things – see that all are engaged in reading and get yourself ready for the question answer part. Even if some of your students are incapable of reading, let them see the text. Even seeing the text and getting a picture of it will be of some help for learning, better than your explanation of the text. While asking questions, follow the following suggestions provided in the Appendix III B.

Do not ask your students to write at this stage. This phase is purely for verbal transaction. Students will keep open their textbooks and locate the answers in their texts. Students who cannot read and comprehend will also gain if they just look at the text again and again. And if they do this for long, they will somehow learn to read. All our previous experiences are stored in our brain as pictures- the places and sights we have seen whether we have understood them fully or not. Let them store the picture of the page/paragraph in their mind in this way.

POST-READING

As stated before, this phase has a series of mind engaging interesting activities for the students. Your job is to make the learners do these activities. While doing these activities, learners will most of the time, keep open their books and will be allowed to consult the text at the time of need. Remember, at this stage the learners will read and reread the text many a time on their own without being aware of the fact that they have read the text so many times. What they have not understood during while-reading phase, they understand now. The self-learning that you have initiated during while-reading now bears fruit. To do the activities, they read the text on their own again and again.

For easy transaction of post-reading activities of all the main lessons, follow a common pattern. There are nine kinds of activities, each activity for all lessons bearing the same number. For example, the VMDT activity bears the number -1 and comes first in all the main lessons. Let's describe what you have to do for each of the activities from activity 1 to 9.

1 VMDT :

Please read about this method in the Appendix. The objective of this method is to develop the visual memory of the learners. Once visual memory is developed, learning becomes easy. Usually under this two kind of activities are provided – the whole text and the part of a text. First VMDT is done for the whole text and then for a smaller part of it. Learners take photograph of the part with their eye cameras and then locate the answer to your question. Then open their eyes and verify. For each item this procedure is followed. Students are found to enjoy this activity very much. And the advantage of this activity is that the teacher need not verify whether the learners have done the activity correctly or not. The teacher can see only some answers. The learners take the responsibility of identifying and correcting their own errors.

2 Comprehension Activities :

The purpose of these activities is helping learners in overall comprehension of the text.

3 Listening :

Listening is a foundation skill. It lays the foundation for other language skills. Therefore, we have included listening activities – you are to read aloud either some words or a chunk (a small paragraph or a stanza), your students listen to you and do the task provided in their book. You have to read aloud slowly and clearly. You can also repeat the part. After you students do the task, you can provide class feedback, if the students are more in number. You write the correct answers on the blackboard. The learners self-correct their scripts. If you are reading aloud a paragraph from the text , tell them in advance. Let them read the paragraph and get ready. In this case, the learners will read the paragraph mindfully to get ready.

4 Speaking :

Usually three kinds of activities are included under speaking—reading aloud, chain-drill and dialogue. For reading aloud, follow the suggestions provided in Appendix II; Rules for Reading Aloud.

For chain-drill, read about the method stated in the Appendix II-4. The lines to be drilled are provided. If students are low – proficient and shy, you can first have a rehearsal – you read aloud the line, students repeat after you. Do this two times. You can also write the line on the blackboard in good handwriting.

For dialogue, follow the following steps.

- Write the dialogue in good handwriting on the blackboard.
- Have a rehearsal – you read aloud, students repeat.
- 2 rounds: Teacher- vs. - students, students –vs. – students

5 Vocabulary : (as suggested)

6 Usage : (as suggested)

Very simple activities are provided under these two heads (5 and 6) .

7 Writing :

Writing is a very important activity. More time should, therefore, be given for the purpose. The writing activity is placed towards the end as all the previous activities prepare ground for writing which is a very difficult task. Activities provided under this head are of two kinds: one sentence answer type questions from the text and other interesting/ creative activities. The first kind of activities lays the foundation for the second type of activities.

For one sentence answer type questions

- Help students to locate the answer in the text
- Get half the answer from the question itself (the form structure of the answer sentence) and half from the text
- The tense for question and answer should be the same.

If the question is in the past tense, the answer should be in the past tense.

* It will be better if you yourself do these writing tasks before asking students to do.

8 Mental Talk (MT) :

Read about the method in the introduction. You yourself practise mental talk first before asking your students to do mental talk.

9 Let Us Think :

As the name suggests, the objective of this task is to activate the mind of the students – to think.

FOLLOW-UP LESSONS :

These lessons, as stated before, are sub-lessons based on the main lessons, but comparatively simpler and shorter. Though based on the main lesson, these lessons take learners bit away from the main lesson, open up for them a broader world. Both your learners and you need to learn on your own. While the main lesson is more strictly structured and everything is done for you, in case of these lessons you have freedom to frame your own activities, and both your learners and you can learn on your own. This will test whether as a teacher you have grown professionally or not, whether you can frame activities on your own or not. Similarly, whether your students have developed the language skills or not is also to be tested. You have to prepare yourself and make tasks for your learners from these sub-lessons under the heads as in the Post-reading activities of the main lessons.

It is seen that our teachers do not develop professional skills because the textbooks provide everything for them in cut and dried ready made form and everything centres round the textbook. In contrast, in educationally developed countries, teachers prepare their own materials as often there are no fixed textbooks. Having fixed textbooks in cut and dried form have some advantages but many disadvantages, one of them being teachers not developing professional skills. These follow-up lessons will help you develop your teaching skills as you have to prepare the activities yourself. Not only you have to prepare the tasks, you have to often write these tasks on the blackboard in good handwriting using them as blackboard texts. During inspections, the inspecting officials have been advised to see whether you have designed activities for the follow-up lessons. They have also been instructed to see whether you have got the post-reading tasks done by the students with your correction and feedback.

You have been provided with time schedule for each lesson – about 6 classes for a remedial lesson and about 10 classes for a main lesson and 5-6 classes for follow ups. But this is not fixed. You have freedom to readjust.

Finally, a line about your professional growth - how to improve your English and professional skills. Please see the Appendix for this purpose.

NOTES TO PARENTS

In educationally developed countries parents, tutors and teaching shops do not help learners to learn. But, unfortunately, here they have to help the learners mainly because the schools do not do their jobs properly. If you are helping your child in his/her learning, kindly see that your child mostly learns on his/her own and develops the skills and not just mugs up and scores good marks. In our current education, there is a wide gap between learners' marks and skills. They pass with high marks without developing skills. This has increased your responsibility as you have to see that your ward not only scores good marks in examination but also has skill matching the marks she/he scores or else she/he will be unemployable. The employers these days do not believe in certificates and marks and conduct their own test to measure their future employees' skills to see whether they are employable.

This book is based on learner-centred approach. Learners are to learn on their own with little outside help. Kindly, therefore, see that they are not helped more than what is necessary or else these helps will become interferences, intervening more than helping in your wards learning. We will request you to go through the introduction to this book before helping your child learn English through this book.

NOTES TO GUIDES

The role of the guide is very important in our current education.. In case you are helping class VI students of Odia medium schools learning English, kindly go through the introduction to the book and the lesson before you teach English to them. This will help both you and your learners. We promise, if you teach English through this book as we wish you to teach, both your learners and you yourself will gain.

FOR INSPECTING OFFICIALS

It is comparatively easy to be an administrator and an educationist. But it is difficult to combine both to become an educational administrator. You must have understood how difficult your job is.

If you are to inspect an English class of class VI, kindly go through the introduction to the class VI textbook and see how the lessons are designed. When you inspect a class, please first know in which phase of teaching a lesson the teacher is. Is s/he in the pre-reading, while-reading or post-reading phase? The learners' role is different in these three phases of a lesson. Please identify the phase and evaluate the class accordingly. Following a learner-centred approach we have done away with teacher's reading aloud and then explaining a text. Please see that teachers do not do this rather give learners to read the text and do the activities on their own, the teacher playing the facilitator's role.

During inspection kindly see the learners' textbooks – the workbook part of it. See whether the learners have done the activities and the teacher has corrected the scripts with feedback. In the follow-up (sub-lessons) teachers are asked to frame comprehension questions and language activities. Please see whether they have done this. We provide at the end of the book, the indicators of learning, which will help you judge the quality of teaching.

N.B.- Currently the greatest danger to education is cheap helps , particularly through cheap bazaar notes (meaning books) which , by spoon feeding , cripple the learners. The bazaar note writers will provide answers to all the questions and solve all the tasks in the textbook often wrongly. The students will mug up these without understanding and vomit in the examination. We, therefore, request all to avoid the use of bazaar notes by all means.

APPENDIX-II

NOTES ON TECHNIQUES

1 Brainstorming :

Brain is the centre of learning. No learning can take place without brain. We use BS Method to activate the brains of our learners. This can be done in many ways. We can write a word, for example 'rain' on the BB and ask our learners to come up with words that relate to the word 'rain' like –storm ,umbrella ,flood, mud-----etc. Similarly we can introduce a topic from the textbooks of students by writing the title on the BB, then use BS to help learners predict the possible contents of the topic. Any writing, be it a paragraph, an essay or a letter can start with BS. In real life we often storm our brain to solve our day to day problems. But unfortunately, we never use BS to help our learners to learn. If we have not done this before, let's make this a part of our present teaching.

2 Visual Memory Development Technique :

Those who are endowed with powerful visual memory are found to learn faster. Whatever they see gets visually printed in their minds. In fact each one of us is endowed with visual memory. By closing our eyes, we can mentally see places, even persons, that we had seen long before. Our eyes act as cameras and our brain as computers to store what we see. But unfortunately our students while learning do not use their visual memory to the extent they do in their real life. Thus, the visual memory of our learners can be developed by systematic use of VMDT.

Ask students, after they read the text, to take a photograph of the text with their eye cameras. Then close the book and ask them to locate words and phrases in the text (at the top, bottom, left, right , middle of the text). The students can also be trained to use this method on their own. They read a paragraph, take a mental photograph of the paragraph in their eye cameras. Next they cover the page and ask themselves to locate important words from the text by touching the cover with their index fingers. Then they remove the cover and see whether they have rightly located the word. This they can keep on doing till the paragraph gets printed in their brains. Students enjoy VMDT activities very much. Use of the method over a period of time helps learners remember things better. Please try and see.

3 Mental Talk :

This is a very good method for learning language, particularly a second language like English. Language is a very complex matter. How humans pick up language so quickly, particularly the small ones do so at homes. Earlier, it was thought that language was mostly learned by speaking. Language is verbal. But current researches have shown that language is more mental than verbal. We learn language so quickly and so fast because most of the time, without being aware, we mentally talk. This mental talk helps us master a language which is so complex. But the thing is we mentally talk in our mother tongue. But it is possible, with a little conscious effort, to mentally talk in English. Suppose we are going to the market to buy certain things, usually we mentally talk (First I'll go to the medicine shop-----) and plan. But with conscious efforts, we can do this in English. And once our learners begin to do this, learning of English becomes easy on his/her part. This has two benefits: One, in our context, there is little scope to speak in English, which is why we fail to learn English. Second, even when we get the chance to speak English, we hesitate to speak in English for fear of going wrong. Mental talk provides us the scope to use English without fear of going wrong.

Our students can be encouraged to mentally talk in English. We can call them to mentally repeat lines from a poem they have read or a dialogue they have practiced to start with.

4 Chain-drill :

Chain-drill is an utterance a word, a phrase or a sentence, a line from a text or the title of a story - which the learners of a class repeat one after another in a serial order, usually at the beginning or at the end of a lesson. Students can also be asked to introduce themselves through chain-drills. For example, "I'm _____. I am from _____. What about you ? Chain-drill has the advantage of making everyone in a class speak something. Apparently, chain-drills seem boring but in reality, it is interesting. When used, many think it is waste of time for many as one has to wait too long to get his/ her chance. But during this time the person waiting for his/her turn, in fact, keeps on mentally repeating what s/he plans to say when his/her turn comes. It is, therefore, not a waste of time as mental repetition helps one learn language.

APPENDIX - III

SOME USEFULL TIPS

A. Instructions for Good Handwriting :

1. Put your writing paper on a hard plain surface, not on heaps of books, your lap or a pillow.
2. Use ink / pencil (well sharpened) / dot pen; bad dot pens affect handwriting.
3. Provide margins at the top and left of the sheet of paper you are going to write on.
4. Write in straight line. Rolled paper is more useful for the beginners.
5. Use unjoined printed letters.
6. Always tilt all your letters slightly to the right.
7. Provide proper space between words and lines.
8. Use neither too big nor too small letters.
9. Avoid over-writing.
10. Maintain distinction between your capital and small letters.
C,K,O,P,S,U,V,W,X,Y,Z
c,k,o,p,s,u,v,w,x,y,z
11. Take care of your problem letters –m,n,u,w , for example. You write the blackboard text on BB, then, move inside the class to help your students to follow these principles of good handwriting. Correct and instruct them where necessary.

B. Suggestions for Asking Questions during While-reading stage:

1. Ask right question to the right person.
2. Distribute questions all over the class.
3. Ask question to the whole class-then identify whom you want to answer your question.
4. Never answer questions to yourself-provide clues to help your students to answer your questions.
5. Encourage your students to ask you question.
6. Encourage your students' to ask question to other students to answer.
7. If you fail to answer your question from your student, bounce back the question to the whole class (who can answer his/her question?)
8. Allow your students to answer in words/phrases....don't force them always to answer in full sentences.
9. Allow them to answer in chorus at times so that the shy ones can join with others develop courage to answer individually later.

10. Allow your students to consult the text while answering your questions
11. Allow your students to answer in Odia, if it is difficult on their part to answer some questions in English.

C. Rules of Reading Aloud :

1. Make yourself familiar with the text before you read it in the class.
2. Introduce briefly what you are going to read.
3. Hold the book or paper up in front of you but not blocking your face.
4. Look interested in what you are reading.
5. Your voice should be clear and loud enough to be audible to all the learners. Use correct volume depending on the size and shape of the room, the number of students in it and what you are reading.
6. Don't read too fast. The listeners need time to absorb what is being read to them.
7. It is important to avoid monotony. Raise and lower your voice to show that a different character is speaking a dialogue, or to indicate a change of mood or to introduce a new idea.
8. You can stress important words by increasing the power of your voice or by lowering it.
9. If you make a mistake, don't stop or repeat yourself unless the mistake alters the meaning of the text.
10. If you can, make an eye contact with your listeners by looking up from your text and looking at them. Gauge their reactions with the help of their facial expressions.
11. If you have to turn a page during the reading, have the page you are going to turn ready before you finish the page you are reading.

APPENDIX-IV

LEARNING INDICATORS FOR CLASS-VI (ENGLISH)

(Based on NCERT Learning Outcomes adapted to our context in Odisha)

Skills / Sub-skills	Learning Indicators	Suggested Pedagogical Processes
1. Listening and Speaking	Learners : ● Listen to short, simple instructions in classroom and outside and respond. ● Listen to a stanza/ para and fill in gaps or forms. ● Participate in group discussion. ● Take part in prepared conversation practice ● Respond to simple queries seeking direction. ● Read aloud paras/stanzas with right pause and moderate intonation ● Take dictation of words/phrases/simple sentences. ● Tick true/false statements listening to para/paras. ● Listen to and respond to announcements at airport/ railway station with 70% comprehension. ● Describe briefly simple events ● Can predict roughly the pronunciation of words from spelling.	● Listening to instructions in classroom, school and outside. ● Taking part in dialogues, chain-drill and role play based on lessons. ● Reading aloud poems and paras of lessons in classroom. ● Doing dictation activities in class. ● Conducting mock interviews in class ● Responding to brain storming activities. ● Practice through mental talk.
2. Reading	Learners : ● Read and comprehend poems/paras prescribed with 70-90% comprehension. ● Read and comprehend instructions in public places with 90% comprehension. ● Can guess meanings of unfamiliar words from context with 70% comprehension. ● Read and predict what comes next in a prose text with 70% comprehension. ● Read and comprehend English in wrappers of different items with 75% comprehension. ● Read railway time table and different forms and brochures with 75% comprehension. ● Read and comprehend sub-titles on T.v title of books, simple headlines of news papers with 60% comprehension. ● Read and comprehend simple poems and stories not prescribed with 50-60% comprehension. ● Take brief notes in words/phrases from larger chunks of simple writing. ● Read and locate information with 70-80% comprehension.	● Doing activities at both while-reading and post-reading sessions ● Doing VMDT activities. ● Reading authentic materials ● Reading the instructions in the text books. ● Getting exposed to written English outside the classroom. ● Participating in exposure classes.

3. Writing	Learners : ● Write 30-50 word answer type questions with 60-70% accuracy. ● Make notes in words and phrases. ● Can take dictation of small paras. ● Can convert notes to writing with 50-60% accuracy. ● Can read a para on a subject and write another para in another subject based on the para read. ● Can write names of persons and places with minimum problem. ● Can write simple letters and applications with tips. ● Can write for class notice board. ● Can write simple poem based on a poem read in the class.	● Mostly through doing post-reading writing activities. ● Use of authentic materials in classroom. ● Doing simple controlled composition. ● Copying blackboard texts. ● Writing posture/notice exercises
4. Vocabulary	Learners : ● Have a stock of 4000-5000 English words both passive and active. ● Stock of about 1000-1500 active words. ● Solve cross-word puzzles with 70% accuracy. ● Correctly spell about 75-805 words they know. ● Can infer meaning of unfamiliar words from context with 50-60% accuracy. ● Can build word chain.	● Mostly through doing vocabulary activities provided in the post reading stage of the lesson. ● VMDT activities as visual recognition helps one learn vocabulary, especially the spelling.
5. Grammar and Usage	Learners : ● Identify word category with 70% recognition. ● Can use simple present and past forms of verbs in context with 70% of comprehension. ● Use punctuation marks appropriately in writing such as question mark, comma, full-stop and capital letters.	● Mainly through post-reading activities or grammar or usage. ● By getting exposed to texts, sub-texts, tail-pieces and texts in exposure classes.
6. Reference Skills	Learners : ● Use dictionary to find out meaning and spelling of words ● Quickly locate the word/ reading words in alphabetical order. ● Can read the symbols for verbs, nouns.....etc.	● Mainly through use of mini-dictionaries provided at the end of every lesson. ● In dictionary classes - classes especially devoted to use of dictionary.
